AIA PESO EQUITY FUND

Fund Specific Risks

Type of Risk	Description
Liquidity Risk	Refers to the risk of losses that an investor is exposed to due to the inability to convert assets into cash immediately or when the conversion is possible but only at a lower price. Such may be caused by holding securities with small or few outstanding issues, inadequate buyers, infrequent trading activity or underdeveloped capital market.
Market Risk	Refers to the risk of losses that an investor is exposed to due to the unanticipated change in the prices of securities or macroeconomic variables that influence the financial markets.
Price Risk	Refers to the risk of losses that an investor is exposed to due to the unanticipated change in the prices of securities. Such change may be associated with the issuers of the securities or sectors or industries within which the issuers operate.
Counterparty Risk	Refers to the risk of a counterparty defaulting on a contract to deliver its obligation in cash, securities or even services.
Credit Risk	Refers to the risk of losses that an investor is exposed to due to a borrower's failure to pay the principal and/or interest on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of securities. The borrower's inability to fulfil its financial obligations may be due to adverse changes in its financial condition thus, lowering the credit quality and/or price of the security.
Transition Risk	Refers to the risk of the potential economic adjustment cost borne by investee companies resulting from policy, legal, technology and market changes to meet AIA Group's exclusion policy on coal, tobacco and ammunitions. This risk also includes the protracted appreciation by the investing public as manifested through an improvement in relative valuation of the efforts of investee companies.
Greenwashing Risk	Refers to the risk of the potential to be misled or overly convinced by the investee companies' or product issuers' declaration of efforts to attain net zero commitments, sustainability of product offerings or their transition plans leading to an over appropriation of capital relative to the true effort. This can result from the urgent demand for ESG products, scoring or assessment modeling errors, reliance on third parties and/or outright misdeclaration of investee companies or product providers.
Portfolio Construction Related Risk	Refers to the risk of the derivative result of attaining sub-optimal portfolio characteristics in the implementation of the AIA Group's exclusion policy on coal, tobacco and ammunitions. Such risk involves compromises in market liquidity, sector representation, short-term tactical performance and concentration issues among others.
