Risk and Reward Profile

This indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Sub-Fund.

The risk and reward category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.

The lowest category does not mean a risk free investment.

The Sub-Fund is rated in this risk and reward category due to the nature of its investments which include the risks listed below. These factors may impact the value of the Sub-Fund's investments or expose the Sub-Fund to losses.

Particular risks not adequately captured by the risk indicator include:

Emerging markets: May face more economic, political or structural challenges than developed countries. This may mean your money is at greater risk. Other factors include greater "Liquidity Risk", restrictions on investment or transfer of assets and failed/delayed delivery of securities or payments to the Sub-Fund. Equity risk can be affected by daily stock market movements. Other influential factors include political, economic news, company earnings and significant corporate events.

Liquidity Risk: In difficult market conditions, the Sub-Fund may not be able to sell a security for full value or at all. This could affect performance and could cause the Sub-Fund to defer or suspend redemptions of its shares.

Stock Connect Risk: The Sub-Fund may invest in China 'A' shares either via China-A Shares Access Products (CAAPs) and/or via the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect and/or via the Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect which may involve clearing and settlement, regulatory, operational and counterparty risks.

Investments in the PRC Risk: The Sub-fund may invest in China 'A' shares either via China-A shares access products (CAAPs) and/or via the Shanghai-Hong Kong Stock Connect which may involve clearing and settlement, regulatory, operational and counterparty risks.

Credit risk: The risk of loss arising from default that may occur if an issuer fails to make principal or interest payments when due. This risk is higher if the sub-fund holds low-rated, non-investment-grade securities.

Contingent convertible bonds: Contingent convertible bonds can be automatically convert into shares or be written down if the financial strength of the issuer falls in a certain way. This may result in substantial or total losses of the bond value.

Small Capitalization Risk: The stock of small-capitalisation/ mid-capitalisation companies may have lower liquidity and their prices are more volatile to adverse economic developments than those of larger capitalisation companies in general.

Derivatives Instruments: Derivatives and other financial techniques used substantially to obtain, increase or reduce exposure to assets may be difficult to value, may generate leverage, and may not yield the anticipated results. All of this could be detrimental to the performance of the Sub-Fund.

Hedging risk: The currency hedging used to minimise the effect of currency fluctuations may not always be successful. Investors may have exposure to currencies other than the currency of their shares.

Bond Downgrade Risk: A Sub-Fund may invest in highly rated / investment grade bonds, however, where a bond is subsequently downgraded it may continue to be held in order to avoid a distressed sale. To the extent that a Sub-Fund does hold such downgraded bonds, there will be an increased risk of default.

Market risk: Is understood as the risk of loss for a Sub-Fund resulting from fluctuation in the market value of positions in its portfolio attributable to changes in market variables, such as general economic conditions, interest rates, foreign exchange rates, or the creditworthiness of the issuer of a financial instrument.

Sustainability Risk: It's principally linked to climate-related events resulting from climate change (physical risks) or to the society's response to climate change (transition risks), which may result in unanticipated losses that could affect a Sub-Fund's investments and financial condition. Social events (e.g., inequality, inclusiveness, labour relations, investment in human capital, accident prevention, changing customer behaviour, etc.) or governance shortcomings (e.g., recurrent significant breach of international agreements, bribery issues, products quality and safety, selling practices, etc.) may also translate into Sustainability Risks.
