This indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Sub-Fund. The risk and reward category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.

The lowest category does not mean a risk free investment.

The Sub-Fund is rated 6 due to the nature of its investments which include the risks listed below.

These factors may impact the value of the Sub-Fund's investments or expose the Sub-Fund to losses.

MAIN RISKS

Currency Risk The Sub-Fund invests in other currencies. Changes in exchange rates will therefore affect the value of the investment.

Emerging Markets Risk Emerging markets or less developed countries may face more economic, political or structural challenges than developed countries. This may mean your money is at greater risk. Other factors include greater 'Liquidity Risk', restrictions on investment or transfer of assets and failed/delayed delivery of securities or payments to the Sub-Fund.

Equity Risk The value of equities and equity-related securities can be affected by daily stock market movements. Other influential factors include political, economic news, company earnings and significant corporate events.

Foreign Exchange Risk & Currency Risk Certain Share Classes of certain Sub-Funds may be denominated in a currency other than the Reference Currency of the relevant Sub-Fund. In addition, the Sub-Funds may invest in assets denominated in currencies other than the Reference Currency. Therefore, fluctuations in the exchange rates between these currencies and the Reference Currency and changes in exchange rate controls may affect the value of an investment in the Sub-Funds and the Net Asset Value of the Sub-Fund may be affected unfavorably.

Market Risk Market risk is understood as the risk of loss for a Sub-Fund resulting from fluctuation in the market value of positions in its portfolio attributable to changes in market variables, such as general economic conditions, interest rates, foreign exchange rates, or the creditworthiness of the issuer of a financial instrument. This is a general risk that applies to all investments, meaning that the value of a particular investment may go down as well as up in response to changes in market variables.

Portfolio Concentration Risk Certain Sub-Funds may invest in a limited number of securities compared to other more diversified Sub-Funds holding a larger number of securities. Where a Sub-Fund holds a limited number of securities and is considered concentrated, the value of the Sub-Fund may fluctuate more than that of a diversified Sub-Fund holding a greater number of securities. The selection of securities in a concentrated portfolio may also result in sectoral and geographical concentration. For Sub-Funds with geographical concentration, the value of the Sub-Funds may be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory event affecting the relevant market.

The AIA World Quality Equity Fund returned 1.49%, outperforming its benchmark (MSCI World) by 120 basis points (bps). Sector allocation provided a modest boost to relative returns this month, with overweight positions in Health Care and Consumer Staples, as well as an underweight in Industrials, contributing positively. In contrast, the overweight in Information Technology and underweight positions in Materials and Financials detracted from performance.

Stock selection within sectors also modestly added to relative returns this month. Selection results in Communication Services, Information Technology and Consumer Discretionary, made the largest positive relative returns while Health Care, Industrials and Consumer Staples detracted from relative returns.

Stock selection contributed more to performance than sector allocation this month. From a regional allocation perspective, both the non-U.S. underweight and the U.S. overweight relative to the MSCI World benchmark modestly detracted from the performance. Overall, the non-U.S. allocation detracted more than the U.S. allocation.

NVIDIA Corporation, Johnson & Johnson, and Merck & Co. Inc. had positive relative impact while, Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Co. Ltd, Salesforce Inc. and Microsoft Corporation had a negative relative impact.

The AIA World Quality Equity Fund seeks to generate total return by investing primarily in equities identified as high-quality. Companies with strong fundamentals and consistent track records of historical profitability are viewed as having the potential to outgrow the broader market over time, making them deserve of a premium valuation. The Fund's disciplined approach uses both quantitative and fundamental techniques to assess the relative quality and valuation of global companies and aims to exploit a long-term investment horizon while withstanding short-term volatility.

Please refer to the offering documents (including, but not limited to the current Prospectus and the KIID) of AIAIF for details on fees and charges, dealing & redemption, product features, risk factors and seek professional advice before making any investment decision. The value of shares in any sub-fund of AIAIF and the income accruing to the shares, if any, may fall or rise. Where an investment is denominated in a currency other than the base currency of a sub-fund of AIAIF, exchange rates may have an adverse effect on the value price or income of that investment. Investors should not make any investment decision solely based on this document. In the event that an investor may choose not to seek advice from a financial adviser, the latter should consider carefully whether an investment into a sub-fund of AIAIF in question is suitable for him.

Past performance and the predictions, projections, or forecasts on the economy, securities markets or the economic trends of the markets are not necessarily indicative of the future or likely performance of the AIAIF.

Any sub-fund of AIAIF may use derivative instruments for efficient portfolio management and hedging purposes.

This paragraph is only applicable to the distribution share classes of AIAIF. AIAIF may, at its discretion, determine how the earnings of distribution share classes shall be distributed and may declare distributions from time to time. When AIAIF decides to pay dividends in respect of a distributing share class out of the capital of the sub-fund of AIAIF or where the dividends in respect of a distributing share class are paid out of gross income of the sub-fund of AIAIF, while the sub-fund of AIAIF's fees and expenses are charged to or paid out of the capital of the sub-fund of AIAIF, resulting in an increase in distributable income for the payment of dividends by the sub-fund of AIAIF, such payment of dividends may, in the light of the rules applicable in the jurisdictions where the sub-fund of AIAIF is registered for public distribution, be considered as a payment of dividends out of and effectively out of capital respectively, both of which would amount to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. The distributions, including amounts and frequency, are not guaranteed and are subject to the discretion of AIAIF. Past dividends are not a forecast or projection of future distributions.
