KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

- Credit Risk. Refers to the risk of losses that an investor is exposed to due to a borrower's failure to pay the principal and/or interest on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of securities. The borrower's inability to fulfil its financial obligations may be due to adverse changes in its financial condition thus, lowering the credit quality and/or price of the security.
- Counterparty Risk. Refers to the risk of a counterparty defaulting on a contract to deliver its obligation in cash, securities or even services.
- Liquidity Risk. Refers to the risk of losses that an investor is exposed to due to the inability to convert assets into cash immediately or when the conversion is possible but only at a lower price. Such may be caused by holding securities with small or few outstanding issues, inadequate buyers, infrequent trading activity or underdeveloped capital market.
- Market Risk. Refers to the risk of losses that an investor is exposed to due to the unanticipated change in the prices of securities or macroeconomic variables that influence the financial markets.
- Interest Rate Risk. Refers to the risk of loss that an investor is exposed to due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of fixed income securities, for example, may result in a loss because the price of the security may decline if interest rates rise.
- Reinvestment Risk. Refers to the risk that an investor is exposed to the possibility of getting lower returns or earnings upon reinvestment of maturing funds and/or interest earnings.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Central bank policy adjustments in the US and Philippines and inflation moderating to target led to lower interest rates in the third quarter.

Headline inflation printed lower primarily due to softer rice prices following lower import tariffs under Executive Order 62. Inflation peaked to 4.4% year-on-year (y/y) in July before declining to 1.9% in September. This brought the national average inflation to 3.4% year-to-date in September. The domestic economy expanded 6.3% y/y in 2Q24, within consensus, and higher than 5.8% in 1Q24. The improvement is mostly driven by a catch up in government spending, while consumer spending and private investment remain subdued.

In response to these favourable conditions, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) cut its policy rate by 0.25% to 6.25% and revised inflation forecasts from 3.1% to 3.3% for 2024 and to 2.9% for 2025. The BSP also reduced the reserve requirement by 250 basis points (bps) to 7%, effective October 25, with plans to cut another 200bps by next year. Meanwhile, the US Federal Reserve (Fed) kicked off its own rate cutting cycle with a hefty 50 bps cut to lower the Fed funds rate to 4.75%-5% from 5.25%-5.50% as inflation and employment cooled.

On the fiscal front, the Bureau of Treasury (BTr) successfully met demand with fully awarded bond auctions for the quarter. The BTr also announced its fourth quarter borrowings to be roughly half from previous quarter further pushing interest rates lower.

The money market index gave a positive return of 1.52% in the third quarter. Interest rates fell by 67-92 bps, ending the quarter with a flatter curve. Benchmark yields in the 2-year closed at 5.50% (down by 0.76%), 5-year at 5.57% (down by 0.86%), 10-year at 5.74% (down by 0.92%), and 20-year at 5.92% (down by 0.91%).

With a resilient economy and inflation on its descending path, settling within its long-run target of 2%-4%, the BSP is expected to continue with its monetary policy easing. This provides a supportive environment for the fixed income funds.

² Returns are net of fees.

³ Duration measures the expected change in the portfolio's bond prices to a 1% change in interest rates.

⁴ Volatility measures the degree to which the Fund fluctuates vis-à-vis its own average return over a period of time (standard deviation of returns).

⁵ Tracking Error is the volatility of the returns of the Fund over and below the returns of its corresponding benchmark (BPHILMM INDEX from inception to April 30, 2024 and IBXXCHOG INDEX from May 01, 2024) (standard deviation of excess returns of the Fund vis-à-vis its benchmark). The lower the Tracking Error, the closer the Fund's composition is vis-à-vis its benchmark. A Tracking Error equal to 0% means the Fund is fully replicated to its benchmark.
