KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

- Credit Risk. Refers to the risk of losses that an investor is exposed to due to a borrower’s failure to pay the principal and/or interest on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of securities. The borrower’s inability to fulfil its financial obligations may be due to adverse changes in its financial condition thus, lowering the credit quality and/or price of the security.
- Counterparty Risk. Refers to the risk of a counterparty defaulting on a contract to deliver its obligation in cash, securities or even services.
- Liquidity Risk. Refers to the risk of losses that an investor is exposed to due to the inability to convert assets into cash immediately or when the conversion is possible but only at a lower price. Such may be caused by holding securities with small or few outstanding issues, inadequate buyers, infrequent trading activity or underdeveloped capital market.
- Market Risk. Refers to the risk of losses that an investor is exposed to due to the unanticipated change in the prices of securities or macroeconomic variables that influence the financial markets.
- Interest Rate Risk. Refers to the risk of loss that an investor is exposed to due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of fixed income securities, for example, may result in a loss because the price of the security may decline if interest rates rise.
- Reinvestment Risk. Refers to the risk that an investor is exposed to the possibility of getting lower returns or earnings upon reinvestment of maturing funds and/or interest earnings.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

The first quarter of 2025 saw continued disinflation, subdued growth, and cautious central bank action amid lingering global risks.

Philippine inflation eased steadily with prints of 2.9% in January, 2.1% in February, and 1.8% in March—bringing the quarterly average to 2.2%, below the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas' (BSP) 2%–4% target range. Despite easing price pressures and tepid GDP growth, the BSP held policy rates at 5.75% in February, citing global uncertainty on trade policies. Instead, it cut the reserve requirement ratio by 200 basis points (bps) to inject liquidity ahead of a likely rate cut in April. Globally, the US Fed held rates steady but maintained a dovish tone, supporting expectations for mid-year cuts. Markets remained sensitive to inflationary US trade and fiscal policies, though the Philippine peso held firm amid lower oil prices and resilient external inflows.

Peso bond yields ended mixed, with the curve steeper. Benchmark yields in the 2-year closed at 5.74% (-0.30%), 5-year at 5.89% (-0.21%), 10-year at 6.14% (+0.02%), and 20-year at 6.32% (+0.23%). The fund gave a positive return of 1.14% in the quarter, supported by falling inflation and policy easing expectations.

Disinflation momentum and BSP monetary policy easing cycle would provide a positive backdrop for bonds. However, global policy shifts may drive near-term volatility. The funds maintain a cautious stance by staying near neutral.

<sup>4</sup> Duration measures the expected change in the portfolio's bond prices to a 1% change in interest rates.
