Risk and reward profile

This indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Sub-Fund.

The risk and reward category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.

The lowest category does not mean a risk free investment.

The Sub-Fund is rated 4 due to the nature of its investments which include the risks listed below. These factors may impact the value of the Sub-Fund's investments or expose the Sub-Fund to losses.

Particular risks not adequately captured by the risk indicator include:

- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity refers to the speed and ease with which investments can be sold or liquidated or a position closed. Difficulties in disposing of investments at a price equal to or close to their estimated value within a reasonable period of time may result in a loss for the Sub-Fund and/or compromise the ability of the Sub-Fund to meet a redemption request.
- Credit risk: The risk of loss arising from default that may occur if an issuer fails to make principal or interest payments when due. This risk is higher if the sub-fund holds low-rated, non-investment-grade securities.
- Derivatives Instrument Risk: Derivatives and other financial techniques used substantially to obtain, increase or reduce exposure to assets may be difficult to value, may generate leverage, and may not yield the anticipated results. All of this could be detrimental to the performance of the Sub-Fund.
- Country specific risk: Certain Sub-Funds may invest in securities of one country or a limited number of countries. Sub-Funds that invest in one or a few select countries will be exposed to market, currency, and other risks related specifically to the economies of those countries.

- Fixed Income Transferable Securities: Debt securities are subject to both actual and perceived measures of creditworthiness. The “downgrading” of a rated debt security or its issuer or adverse publicity and investor perception, which may not be based on fundamental analysis, could decrease the value and liquidity of the security
- Interest Rate Risk: The performance of a Sub-Fund may be influenced by changes in the general level of interest rates.
- Bond Downgrade Risk: A Sub-Fund may invest in highly rated / investment grade bonds, however, where a bond is subsequently downgraded it may continue to be held in order to avoid a distressed sale. To the extent that a Sub-Fund does hold such downgraded bonds, there will be an increased risk of default.
- Sovereign debt risk: Sovereign debt refers to debt obligations issued or guaranteed by governments or their agencies and instrumentalities (each a “governmental entity”). Investments in sovereign debt may involve a degree of risk.
- Investment grade bonds risk: Certain Sub-Funds' investment objective is to invest in investment grade bonds where there is a risk that the rating of the bonds held by the Sub-Funds may be downgraded at any time. In the event of such downgrading, the value of the Sub-Funds may be adversely affected.
- Perpetual Bonds Risk: The Sub-Fund may make investments into perpetual bonds (i.e. bonds without a maturity date) which may be exposed to additional liquidity risk. In stressed market environments, liquidity for such instruments may be limited and this may have a negative impact on the price that they may be sold at, thereby negatively impacting the performance of the Sub-Fund.
- Volatility Risk: The Sub-Fund may make investments in instruments or markets that are likely to experience high levels of volatility. This may cause the Net Asset Value per Share to experience significant increases or decreases in value over short periods of time.
